Student Work as Samples for Instruction, Training, and Support

Your work will be used for instructional purposes only, to show future students and faculty what certain kinds of assignments (e.g., writing, speaking, reflective, ePortfolio) can and/or should look/sound like. Note: If you give consent below, your ePortfolio (and all written and oral work within it) might be shared with other faculty, staff and students (i.e., used as an example in future classes).

Risks and Benefits:

There are no known risks if you allow your work to be used, other than that your name, voice, and body may be recognizable to some faculty and students who may see your oral presentation/s and ePortfolio. There are no known benefits to you other than knowing that your work is being used to help others. There will be no monetary compensation for your participation.

Participation:

Participation is requested but is entirely voluntary. Whether or not you grant consent, there will be no effect on your grade or assessment outcome.

YES, I GIVE CONSENT

I give my informed consent to share my ePortfolio (and all written and oral work within it) with the Integrative Core program for future instructional use. I understand I will receive no monetary rewards for sharing this material. I also understand that my work might be used as an example in future classes, where it could be seen by other faculty, staff, and students. I also recognize that, because of the digital nature of the ePortfolio, my identity may not be protected.

NO, I DO NOT GIVE CONSENT

I do not give my consent to share my ePortfolio for instructional purposes. I do understand that my ePortfolio will still be used for grading or assessment and internal staff/faculty training purposes. It will not be shared with students or used in classes as an example.
