As such the course will examine the role of women, the place of the Bible, how public discourse is handled, preaching, role of music and the arts. The course will study the impact the Black Church has had on the Black community. This survey nature of this course will further the learning goals of the department in that the student has to demonstrate an understanding of the major ideas and tenets of the Black Church and understand the use of text and the oral tradition. 4 Semester Hours.

REL 260H Islam: An Introduction. The course on Islam will study the development of Islam from its Arabic beginning to its Asian outgrowth. The student will come to understand how Islam came to be a major religion in the world. The course examines the major tenets, important rituals, significant people, profound developments and major viewpoints. The course seeks to provide an understanding of Islam that will broaden student's perspective on what it means to be a religious person in the 21st century. 4 semester hours.

REL 270 Death and Dying. The first half of this course surveys ideas about death and dying as found in both Western and Eastern religions and philosophies. The second half of the course is devoted to such practical and ethical issues as suicide, euthanasia, capital punishment, the grieving process, the funeral industry, living wills, hospice care, and the near death experience. Emphasis is placed throughout the course on how the inevitability of death encourages us to live more intentionally and meaningfully. 4 Semester Hours.

REL 300 Old Testament Interpretation. A close study of a select group of texts from the Bible, focusing on Old Testament. The course will employ several interpretive approaches including historical, literary, feminist, and third-world perspectives. Topics will vary and may include individual books or blocks, such as Pentateuch, Deuteronomistic History, Prophets, and Wisdom Literature. 4 Semester Hours.

REL 310 Jesus and the Gospels. This course will focus on the New Testament Gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John, introducing critical methods in the study of the gospels. It will also address non-canonical texts and the study of the historical Jesus. Particular emphasis will be given to the historical, literary, and theological context of the gospels and the understandings of Jesus that arise from them. The portrayal of Jesus in music, art, and popular culture will also be explored. 4 Semester Hours.

REL 315 Paul and the Epistles. This course will examine the apostle Paul and his writings, in the context of both the early Christian communities and contemporary times. Beginning with a survey of Paul’s life and the early church as portrayed in Acts, it will then turn to a close reading of the Pauline letters. The latter part of the course will concentrate on important social issues raised by the letters. The course will introduce students to the principles of biblical scholarship, which will be used to interpret the letters in their social, political, and economic context. 4 Semester Hours.

REL 330 Buddhism in Film. This course is an introductory course to Buddhism. This course seeks to explore the basic concepts of Buddhism as they are presented in film. The course will examine the Buddhist concepts of karma, impermanence, Nirvana, enlightenment, desire as the cause of suffering, five aggregates, and no self. The course will explore these ideas and more through the characters and situations as they have arisen in various films. The course will also delve into the history of Buddhism as a religious phenomenon and briefly examine the life of the Buddha. 4 Semester Hours.
