Extensive use of practical exercises and scene presentations. 4 Semester Hours.

THE 200A  People, Society and Theatre. This course is an introduction to the exciting, complex, and collaborative process of theatre. Comprised of the work of a number of dedicated passionate people (playwrights, producers, directors, designers, actors, and technicians), encompassing historical traditions, and drawing from old and new scripts, theatre culminates in a live performance in front of a live audience, both in the same place at the same time. In this class, we will examine and consider the history, the choices, and the process which results in the production. 4 Semester Hours.

THE 205A  The History of the American Musical Theatre. From The Black Crook (1866) to Spiderman: Turn Off the Dark (2011), musical theatre has been an integral part of not only the world of theatre, but the world at large. Although all-too frequently regarded as “fluff entertainment,” musical theatre has been responsible for significant social observation and change. From the issues of racism in Showboat (1927) to the questions of AIDS in Rent (1996), unemployment in The Full Monty (1997) and sustainability in Urinetown (2001), musical theatre has often offered the ticket-buying public the palatable opportunity to examine tough issues from a safe place. This course will examine the history, impact, and the effects of musical theatre. 4 Semester Hours.

THE 225  Creative Dramatics. A study of the theories and methods involved in using improvisation, theatre games, and other creative dramatic techniques as an approach to teaching theatre and developing theatrical productions. 4 Semester Hours.

THE 255  Voice and Movement for the Actor. An exercise-based course strengthening the external components of performance: voice and body. Coursework will seek to develop a complete performer with a vibrant and resonant voice, along with a controlled and engaged body awareness. 4 Semester Hours.
