The Office of Student Involvement and Leadership prepares Mount Union students for meaningful work, fulfilling lives, and responsible citizenship through engaging and intentional cocurricular activities, programs, services, and partnerships. Through immersed participation, training, practice, and reflection, the Mount Union student will complement their academic endeavors and further enable their success after graduation.

Education at the University of Mount Union does not just happen in the classroom…it happens just about everywhere!

The balance of your education, including those most memorable experiences, takes place within a student organization, participating in service opportunities, engaging in a leadership development program, living in a residence hall, acting in a theatre production, performing with a musical ensemble, or competing on the athletic field.

Any actively involved student can attest to the learning acquired and the satisfaction experienced through their college involvement. By combining skills developed through outside of the classroom involvement with knowledge you are gaining through classes and labs, you will be far better prepared!

Whatever your interests are or the reasons why you would like to be involved, there is probably an organization, a program, or service that exists specifically designed just for you. If not, the Office of Student Involvement & Leadership supports and encourages you to consider creating a new opportunity for yourself.

The Office of Student Involvement staff is located in the Hoover-Price Campus Center, behind the Information Desk, and is available to assist you in finding ways to get engaged and involved on campus. Do not hesitate to contact us!

Sincerely,
The Office of Student Involvement & Leadership

Student Organizations are active at the University. Along with the benefits of University recognition, these opportunities for campus involvement are held to a high standard reflective of the quality of educational experience that Mount Union seeks for its students. Not only do student organizations provide an environment for students to connect with one another through a topic of mutual interest, but they also provide opportunities for curricular learning and development.

We recognize student organizations in one (or more) of the following categories:

Academic
Academic Organizations directly support an academic field of study or link with an academic program/department at the University. This includes organizations that are honor societies.

Club Sport
Club Sports provide opportunities for students to participate in sports competition against other colleges and universities, but not at the Division III intercollegiate level.

Diversity (The Diversity Council)
Diversity organizations are inclusive to all students and are established to educate and celebrate the diversity on campus and in the community. These organizations meet Biweekly under their umbrella group, The Diversity Council.

Governing
These student organizations are considered to be “umbrella” organizations for specific groups of student organizations on campus. They make decisions and enforce policies and procedures as they relate to that set group of student organizations.

Media
Media organizations encompass those organizations that have a communications focus.

Service
These are student organizations whose primary purpose is either community service efforts or philanthropic endeavors in the campus and surrounding community.

Social
This category is our fraternity and sorority community. Mount Union hosts four fraternities for men and four sororities for women.

Special Interest
These organizations include those student groups that have a focus that is of special interest to those who are members.

Spiritual
These are student organizations that serve a religious, spiritual, or evangelical purpose. Each one is a member of and governed by the Spiritual Life Leadership Council.

Leadership Principles

(Adapted from Dr. Ron Binder)

How you spend your time and money indicates what is important.

If you don’t stand for something, you’ll fall for anything; once you know your core values, your decisions become much easier.

The problem is not the lack of good ideas, but how to use your values to choose which ideas you will commit your resources to.

Don’t be held hostage by a minority: dissent is usually loud, whereas the majority is usually silent.

Character is what you do when no one is looking.

Take the high road and let others wallow in the mud: you’ll be glad you did down the road.

Ethics Light of Day Test: Never write or say anything you don’t want repeated on the evening news. This is now especially true of social media!

Be careful: your thoughts become words, your words become deeds, and your deeds become who you are.

Go for diversity; it helps your group grow beyond where they are currently, and part of your job is to prepare your members to be successful in a more diverse world.

Nothing in the world can take the place of persistence. Persistence and determination are omnipotent.

Jordyn Vlock, executive director
Up ’Til Dawn is a signature fundraiser for the St. Jude’s Children’s Research Hospital, located in Memphis, Tennessee. St. Jude’s pledge is to provide care for children, no matter their ability to pay for treatment. The Up ’Til Dawn letter writing campaign occurs each November, and a celebration of the program occurs the following February. We encourage students to form a team to write letters and stay Up ’Til Dawn! For more information, visit www.stjudes.org

Starting a new student organization at Mount Union

If you don’t see a group you’d like to join, and you’d like to start your own, please contact carnelke@mountunion.edu and visit www.mountunion.edu/student-organizations for the requirements and instructions on starting new student organizations.

Basically, you’ll need 5 friends (minimum) and a full-time member of the faculty, staff, and/or administration to serve as the club’s advisor! (But, contact us first!!)
