

The Outstanding Hourly Staff Award

The Outstanding Hourly Staff Award is given to an hourly staff member at the University of Mount Union to recognize the hard work and outstanding contributions made to Mount Union. The Outstanding Hourly Staff Award was presented in a unique way for 2019-2020, as Mount Union honored its entire Campus Security staff for its flexibility and responsiveness during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Those honored were: Nicole Andrews, Donald Cook, Corey Davis, Savannah Derrick, John Hawk, Michael Perkins, Corey Prendergast, Christopher Santabene, David Schmid, Jeremy Secrest, and Eric Ulrich.

Although this award is traditionally only given to one individual, President's Council made an exception this year for the tremendous contributions of the entire Campus Security Staff. The nomination for the staff gave some insight to their contributions:

“So much that the Security Staff does gets overlooked and unnoticed, but they press on with their noses to the grindstone.”

“During the pandemic, they were here 24/7 still doing their jobs and making sure everything and everyone was safe and secure as normal.”

“We strive to do our best whether it be a major call, bad snowstorm, pandemic, or even the smallest things like lock outs and opening buildings. It's these things and so many more that make the Security Dept. a good candidate for this award.”

Congratulations, to our entire security staff!
